Sierra Instruments Joins TASI Group

Monterey, California – On May 2, 2019, TASI Group (www.tasigroup.com) finalized the acquisition of Sierra Instruments. Sierra's flow business will be joining the TASI Flow segment that already includes the following complimentary businesses: AW-Lake Company, Litre Meter, KEM GmbH, Signal Fire Wireless Telemetry, Vogtlin Instruments, Exact Dispensing Systems, ONICON, Greylane Instruments, Air Monitor, Fox Thermal, Seametrics, and Pulsar Process Measurement. Matt Olin, President of Sierra, is staying with the business and will continue to lead Sierra's flow business. The Sierra AUTOTEST division will continue to be led by Martin Hird and will report as part of TASI Group's Product Integrity Segment.

Matt Olin comments that "Sierra joining TASI Flow is a great next step in our continuing development as a premier flow measurement business. We look forward to being part of a broader flow measurement team that shares our commitment to quality and customer service."

Sierra's mass flow controllers, thermal insertion, vortex and ultrasonic flow meters are complementary to the TASI Flow Division offering. Sierra's Flow Measurement and Control Division designs and manufactures flow instruments to cover nearly any gas, liquid and steam application spanning across global industries as diverse as oil & gas, scientific research, energy management, semicon, clean energy, aerospace and biotech to name a few. Sierra's Automotive Test Division, known as Sierra-CP, is a trusted designer and manufacturer of a wide variety of automotive testing solutions ranging from engine, vehicle, powertrain, emissions and component test rigs.
